From the Chapter on New Rochelle- "French Blood in America".

R.I. Fosdick -1906.

"In the year 1689 John Fell deeded 6,000 acres of land to Jacob Leisler, a Dutch Merchant, who made the purchase on behalf of a band of refugees from La Rochelle. The 6,000 acres comprises the present township of New Rochelle, Westchester County, N.Y."

"Some were from New York, others from the West Indies; but the greater part came from England, as tradition has it, in one of the King's ships. They were Rochellese who left their city four years before the Revocation, fled to the neighboring Isle of Rhe and thence of British ships to England. The exact date of landing in America is not known, but it must have been in the year 1689; local tradition points out their landing place as Bonnefoy's Point, on what now is known as Davenport's Neck."

"There were a few Huguenots settled in Pell Grant in 1686."

"In 1695 letters of denization were issued to Andrew Naudin and Andrew and Louis, his sons."

Page 233.

(From the above we surmise that Andrew Naudin and his family came to New York direct from England in 1689).

NODINE AND ALLIED FAMILIES OF NEW YORK,
CONNECTICUT, INDIANA AND OREGON

When a small boy, my Mother told me she was born near Sharon, Connecticut in a small valley called "Nodine Hollow". Just one hundred and one years after her birth my wife and I visited this beautiful spot which is now a part of Macedonia Brook State Park, but still called by the older residents of the surrounding country "Nodine Hollow" and the little stream "Nodine Brook". No one lives in the little valley at this time. The only relics of the former inhabitants are a part of a stone fence, two or three old cellars and many apple trees growing wild and tall in the forest where at one time the Nodines cultivated their farms.

Many hours of search through old cemeteries, Town (township) records in Connecticut and through libraries in Conn. and Massachusetts resulted in much valuable information regarding the Nodine ancestry.

We find the name spelled Naudin, Nauden, Nodean, Naudain, Nodden, Nodang, Nodyn, Nodyne and Nodine. For nearly two hundred years the name has been spelled in nearly all records "Nodine" as it sounded to the English.

During the two years following our visit to "Nodine Hollow" in July, 1933, I have continued at odd times, my research and have found some very interesting Nodine data, also connections with two of the very prominent early Huguenot families, Tourneur and De Vaux.

GUIDE AND ALONG FAMILIES BY NEW YORK.

CONNECTICUT, INDIANA AND OHIO.

When I recall that my father was the one who first discovered the small valley called "Hollow" just one hundred and one years after the first of the settlers who came to this part of the country from the East, and that he was the first to the surrounding country, I am proud to say that "Hollow" is the name of the first valley in this area. The only thing of the kind I have seen is a small town, and it is not called so, and I am proud to say that it is the first valley in this area.

My home of today is in the old settlement, Hollow in Connecticut, and through it is the
and the settlement is the first valley in this area.

We find the name applied to the first valley, Hollow, Hollow, Hollow, Hollow, and Hollow. The name is the first valley in this area, and it is the first valley in this area.

My home of today is in the old settlement, Hollow
in Connecticut, and through it is the
and the settlement is the first valley in this area.

DANIEL TOURNEUR
IMIGRANT HUGUENOT REFUGEE
CITIZEN OF NEW HARLEM,N.Y.

ANCESTOR OF JAMES LOGAN AND MARIAN JANE WATERS

Daniel Tourneur with others, while attending a burial at Amiens was attacked by Catholics. Huguenots were debarred from using the common cemeteries. He and others drew their swords in self defense. Tourneur, it is charged, killed Tilie Maire. -1.

"Nicholas De Vaux removed soon after to New Jersey, and with his wife, Marie See, joined the church at Bergen, April 5, 1679. His descendants, under the name of DeVouw or De Voe were long to be found at Hackensack and Tarrytown." Page 347.

"Frederick De Vaux drew lot 3 on Joachem Pieters' Flat." Page 342.

"David Du Four, senior, thus wrote his surname , but it soon exchanged F for V then took the form of Devoor, Some now write it De Voe which confounds it with the name of another distinct family, herein noticed, descended from the brothers Nicholas and Frederick D~Vaux or DEVoe." Page 409.

"It speaks well for the prevailing security at this period, that but seldom an act of robbery comes to notice. A flagrant case which occurred in the spring of 1679 made th greater excitement at Harlem, as one of the thefts was committed at "house of Daniel Tourneur's sister's the wife of Frederick DeVoe. The thief was one Williams, who having stolen a horse at Stamford had also robbed several persons in Fordham. Being arrested and by an order from the Governor of March 3, 'delivered pinioned into the hands of the constable of Harlem'. Waldron conducted him to New York for trial. He was convicted on May 8th of horse stealing upon several affidavits taken at Stamford'.

FIRST GENERATION
ANDRE NAUDIN
IMMIGRANT HUGUENOT REFUGEE
OF NEW ROCHELLE, NEW YORK
ANCESTOR OF JAMES LOGAN AND MARIAN JANE WATERS

Andre (1)Naudin, born at La Tremblade, Francein 1641 came to NewYork prior to 1690 with his family. Wife Margaret, son, Andre and daughter Mary. HE , with his famliy settled at New Rochelle, N.Y. He left France on accounts of the Catholic persecutions of the Huguenots during the reign of Louis XIV.

Andre(1) Naudin reached New York prior tp 1690, as his daughter Marie Married Zachariah Angevin in the Frech Church, New York March 5,1690. We have as yet been able to find how or when Andre Naudin came to America.

Andre Naudin(1), with his wife and son were taken in the census of 1698 at New Rochelle, Wesrchester County, New York, His age is given as 57 , his wife's 52 and son's 19. Zachariah Angvin and wife Mary, were given the same census. -1-

In the list of the town of New Rochelle 1710 Documentry History of New York, vol. 3 page 946 are given:

Andrew(1) Nodden Sr.	73	Andrew (2) Nodden	34
Mary Nodden	50	Susannah Nodden	26
		Andrew(3) Nodden	2

It appears from the above census that Andre(1) Nodden married a second time.

Andre(1) Nauden with others swore allegience to his Majesty King William, Janury 31,1698. -2.

Andrew(1) Nodine of New Rochelle,,acknowledged a deed in his own behalf and for his son Andrew(2) Nodine Junr. May 27,1702.-3.

Andrew Nodine, of New Rochelle,"unto son Andrew(2)Nodine, JR. now living with me and going to be married, God Willing", a house and lot and the manor of Pelham, March 29, 1705. -4.

Andrew(1) Naudin, Senr. deeded to son-in-law Zachariah Angvin, both of New Rochelle, land in New Rochelle, April 19,1707. Zachariah Angvin and wife Mary deeded back the same, May 12,1707. -5.

SECOND GENERATION
ANDREW(2)NODINE, JR.

Andrew(2) Nodine, Junr. born 1679 at La Tremblade, France, married Susan Devoose, daughter of Frederick DeVoose, (DeVaux, DeVoe) about 1705. -1. Died 1761.* There were four children named in his will dated February 13, 1761. -2.

Andrew (3) Nodine
Peter (3) Nodine

Juda(3), wife of Cornelius Jacobs
Elizabeth(3), wife of Isrial Pinkney

We find in the Stamford, Conn. Vital records, vol.1 page 140, another son "Lewis(3) Naudin, son of Andrew(2) and Susannah, born January 5, 1714."

Genealogy of the De Voe Family, page 56 referring to Susannah DeVoe is as follows: "Susannah (Susan in Bible) born 1682, married Andrew(2) Naudine (or Nodine) Junr. in 1698. They resided in New Rochelle. where in 1705, his father, Andrew(1) Nodine sold to his son Andrew(2) Nodine Jr. several acres of land." According to deed dated 1705, Andrew(2) Nodine Jr. was "about to be married God Willing".

WILL OF ANDREW(2) NODINE:

FEBRUARY 13, 1761.

In the name of God, Amen, I, Andrew(2) Nodine of Yonkers in the county of Westchester, Yoeman, being in health, I leave to my wife Susannah the use of all lands and tenements during her life and all movable estate at her disposal.

After the death of my wife and in three months after her decease all my lands and tenements are to be put up at public vendue and sold to the highest bidder. From the proceeds, my sons, Andreas(3) and Peter(3) are each to have one-third and one-third to my two granddaughters, viz., my daughter Juda(3), wife of Cornelius Jacobs, and Elizabeth(3), wife of Isrial Pinkney. My two granddaughters to have their mothers share. the share of my daughter, Elizabeth(3) Pinkney, is to be paid to her and not to her husband. I leave to each of my executors 5 pounds for their trouble.

I make my son Peter(3) Nodine and my son-in-law, Cornelius Jacobs, Executors.

(Signed) Andreas Naudain.

It is not clear from the wording of Andrew(2) Nodine's will just which son or daughter was the parent of the two granddaughters. It could be surmised they were daughters of Lewis, who was probably deceased at the time the will was made.

*It is presumed Andrew Nodine died previous to the date of his wife's will, January 13, 1762.

Andrew(3) Nodine is named in his father's will and shares wqually with the other heirs. Peter(3) Nodine and the son-in-law, Cornelius Jacob are named executors. -3.

Andrew (3) Nodine was no doubt living near Stratford, Conn. at the time Andrew(2) Nodine made his will. This may have been the reason he was not named executor with his brother, Peter.

WILL OF SUSANNAH NODINE:

January 13,1762.

In the name of God, Amen. I, Susannah Nodine of Yonkers, in Westchester County, leave to my daughter, Juda Jacobs $\frac{1}{2}$ of my movables. both outdoors and indoors and leave to my grandson. Letter in part from Richard Webber. 109 Hamilton Ave. New Rochelle, Ny.Y. dated February 27, 1934.

"We agree that there was the line, Andre(1.2.3.). The Connecticut Gazette and The Commercial Intelligencer of April 28, 1802 under the date line, New Milford, April 12, 1802, says among other things, 'On Friday the 9th instant, died in this town, Mr. Andrew Nodine..... The place of his nativity was New Rochelle, in the state of New York...

"The Independent Chronical and the Universal Advertiser(Boston) of Feb. 9 1801, says, among other things, 'Mr. Nodine, born at New Rochelle, New York..... HE was last from Stratford in this State(Conn) where he tendered a ferry for several years'.

"The American Mercury of April 15, 1802, (which I have not seen but is quoted by Thos.F.DEVoe. The De Vaux Genealogy, p.57) says, 'His father (above Andrew's father), of the same name..... was born in 1666*. He died about 40 yrs. ago, aged 95 yrs..... (Note: forty yrs before would be 1762. We know he died in 1761. Mr. Nodine lived the latter part of his days in the state of New York, but a number of years in the town of Stratford, Conn. and for many years had the superintendency of the ferry between the village of Oronoque, so called, Old Milford. Two sons and three daughters are still living. For several years past he has resided at New Milford with one of his daughters.

"The newspaper extracts are my authority for indentifying our third New Rochelle Andrew with Andrew of Stratford and New Milford. DeVoe, cited above, agrees with this."

CHILDREN OF ANDREW(3)NODINE:

Lewis(4) Nodine

Bebjamin(4) Nodine

Frederick(4) Nodine

Four daughters -3.

Polly Nodine married William Russell, Jr. July 1775. She was probably one of Andrew(3)Nodine's daughters. -4.

Chloe Nodine Whitton was probably a daughter of Andrew(3) Nodine. -5.

*this refers to Andrew(2) Nodine. According to New York census of 1698 Andrew(2) Nodine was 19 yrs. old, which would make the date of his birth 1679. In that case he was 82 yrs. at the date of his death, 1761.

Lewis(4) Nodine born about 1735, married Anna----- apparently Oct.1756. -6.

Their children:

Anna, born 1757.

Rachel, born 1764. -7.

The 1790 census of Huntington, Fairfield County, Connecticut, shows the Lewis(4) Nodine family:

1 free white male under 16 yrs.

1 free white female including head of family. -8.

FOURTH GENERATION
FREDERICK(4) NODINE, SR.

According to the Histories of Stratford and Bridgeport, Conn. page 1259, Frederick(4) Nodine was born July, 1751 at Huntington, Fairfield County, Conn. Huntington is about eight miles north of Stratford near where his father, Andrew(3) Nodine spent a number of years. -1.

The United States Census of 1790 of Huntington, Fairfield County Conn. shows the Frederick(4) Nodine family:

- 1 free white male 16 yrs. and up including head of family.
- 3 free white males under 16 yrs.
- 2 free white females including head of family.

Again we find his family in the 1800 United States Census at Sharon, Conn:

- 1 male 45 and up.
- 1 female 45 and up.
- 1 male 16 to 26.
- 1 female 10 to 16.

Frederick(4) Nodine with his family moved to Litchfield County, Conn. sometime between the years 1790 and 1795, as we find his son Frederick was married to Chloe Whitten at Sharon in 1795.

Frederick(4) Nodine's grave is in the Amenia Cemetery near Sharon. At its head is a large flat stone on which is inscribed: Died April 11, 1848. Frederick Nodine, AE. 100 yrs. 3 mons. & 3 days."

At the side of Frederick(4) Nodine's grave is a stone on which is inscribed: "Mary, wife of Frederick(4) Nodine, died Mar. 4, 1855, AE. 80 yrs.". According to this record she would have been born the same year, 1775, that Frederick(5) Nodine was born. She, no doubt, was a second wife.

Frederick(4) Nodine's family in 1790, according to the census, consisted of three males and two females not including himself. Three were sons under 16 years of age. The two females may have been his wife and daughter. We find no further record of his first wife, mother of his four children.

In the fall of 1929, the writer visited at the home of William(8) Nodine, Waterloo, Indiana, and was shown a large family bible. On the page of births at the top was name of Frederick Nodine. Following were the names of Frederick, Jr. and his wife, Chloe, Elias, David and Judith, also the names of Benjamin, Thomas, Henry, Johnatan, Joseph, Frederick. Seneca, perhaps others. These were copied. About the time this work was begun, the copy was lost.

William(8)Nodine died soon after. Unfortunately, the Bible disappeared and cannot be located.

Charles(8) Nodine writes as follows: (He evidently copied the same from the old Bible). "Elias Nodine, David Nodine, Judith Nodine. These are the names of our Great Grandfather's (Frederick(5) Nodine, Jr.) brothers and sister. The names of Frederick(5)Nodine's our Great Grandfather's children: Benjamin, Thomas, Henry, Johnatan, Joseph, Frederick."

FIFTH GENERATION
FREDERICK(5)NODINE

Frederick(5) Nodine,Jr. was born at Huntington, Fairfield County, Conn. July 30,1775. -1. Married Chloe Whitten Oct. 30, 1795. -2. Chloe was the daughter of Thomas Whitten of Sharon, Conn. Thomas is given in the 1800 census over 45 yrs. of age. Chloe(Whitten) Nodine may be a direct descendent of Thomas Whitten who came from London in the "Elizabeth Ann" in 1635. -3.The name Whitten appears quite prominently all through the early history of Plymouth County, Mass. Several families from there settled near Sharon, Conn. ,between 1775 and 1790.

Quoting from a letter of August 25,1925, to Mrs. Dora(8)Shaw from her brother, John(8)Nodine, son of Hiram(7)Nodine:"Now as to these ten Nodine brothers(sons of Hiram(7) Nodine and Chloe Nodine) I never saw but five of them. The five that I have seen was our Grandfather.John and your Grandfather, Benjamin. Now your Grandfather was the seventh son and he was always called Doc Nodine. Now the other three were Joseph, Henry and Thomas and the other five I never saw. They never came out to Indiana."

Quoting from a letter written by Anna(8) Crowl, daughter of Caroline(7) Bryan: "Mother says that from her earliest recollections her father, Henry(6) Nodine was one of a family of nine children.She also says her father was a Mason and organized the first Masonic Lodge in DeKalb County,Indiana and that Joseph(6)Nodine was a Surveyor and he made the first survey of DeKalb County and no doubt of adjoining counties. He returned from Oregon about 1860 and later met a tragic death. He either had heart failure or was knocked on the head and taken out of his buggy, as he was found dead in the road". See further history of Joseph(6) Nodine and family.

Caroline(7)Bryan, daughter ofHenry(6) Nodine, is now(1935) living at Traverse city, Michigan, aged 92 years.

There were born to Frederick(5) Nodine,Jr. adn Chloe(Whitten) Nodine, sons: -4.

The land records of Sharon and Kent Towns(townships) of Litchfield county, were kept at New Milford prior to 1831. Those records show thirty real estate transfers to and from Chloe Nodine and transfer to and from Frederick(4) Nodine from 1798 to 1810. Sixteen transfer to and from Frederick(5) Nodine, Jr. from 1801 to 1823. One transfer from Henry(6) Nodine(mortgage) to Chloe Nodine Nov.20,1830. One transfer from Thomas Whitten to Chloe Nodine Dec.22,1798. One transfer from Elijah Prindle to Henry(6) Nodine April 7,1834. -5.

*According to Caroline Porley,daughter of Joseph(6) Nodine,age90, now living at Union, Oregon, there were the ten sons. Thomas, Seneca, Isiah and James were not married.

Quoting from G.F.Goodenough's History of Ellsworth, Litchfield County, Connecticut. pg.54.

"The time when Nodine Hollow is in sympathy with us fast passes, although the tie does keep up a semblance of binding. The time was some seventy-five years ago when Chloe Whitten Nodine, then a great-grandmother, used to walk from the Hollow to church, stoppong half way at her daughter's, Mrs. Robert Chapman. Julia Chapman was already Mrs. Joseph Buckley, Sr., and her daughter, Betsey Buckley Hall, has seen the fourth generation on both sides of her and is living today. These seven distaff generations ar as follows: 1. Chloe Nodine Whitten, 2. Mrs. Robert Chapman; (Judith Whitten) 3. Mrs. Joseph Buckley; (Julia-Chapman) 4. Mrs. Charles Hall; (Betsey Buckley) 5. Mrs. George Studley; (Louisa Hall) 6. Mrs. Charles Marsh; (Inez Studley) 7. Emily Marsh. Cases of longevity with faculties in vigorour action are numerous in our midst."

There can be no doubt that Chloe Nodine Whitten was the mother of Judith Whitten who married Robert Chapman, October 6, 1786. -6.

However, she could not have been the same Chloe Whitten Nodine, the daughter of Thomas Whitten, who married Frederick Nodine, Jr., October 14, 1795. Goodenough's History was published in 1900. Seventy-five years prior to this would bring us back to 1825. Chloe Whitten Nodine would have been married just 35 years. Hardly time to be a great grandmother. We find no record of her having any daughters.

Referring to page 9, of this work, we find in the account of the death of Andrew(3) Nodine in 1802, he was the fater of seven children, three sons and four daughters. Two sons and three daughters were still living. It is probable there were two Chloes and Chloe Nodine Whitten was one of his daughters.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jucket, Sharon Conn. report the burial place of Frederick(5) and Chloe Nodine as Skiff Graveyard on Skiff Mountain on the East border of "Nodine Hollow". There were no gravestones.

Of the ten sons of Frederick(5) and Chloe Nodine Jr., five possibly six, moved to Indiana:

SIXTH GENERATION HENRY (6)NODINE

Henry(6)anodine son of Frederick(5) and Chloe Nodine was born 1802, Sharon, Conn. Married 1st Amy Downs of Shron,Conn.- married 2nd Mrs. Jane(Housier) Glassbrook at Truxton, New York. She died 1861. -1.

Henry(6) Nodine, with his wife Jane and daughter Caroline(7), moved to indiana from Truxton, N.Y. in the spring of 1854. They traveled by steamboat from Buffalo to Toledo. There Joseph(6) Nodine met them and with team and wagon. The journey from Toledo to Joseph(6) Nodine's home must have been a hard,tiesome trip, just seventy-five miles through forests,swamps and over corduroy roads. Caroline was a little girl of eleven years. When they reached her Uncle Joseph's(6) home, she cried as she stood before the fireplace. She had been so badly frieghtened during the last miles of thie juorney. The railroad "Air Line" Lake Shore and Michigan Southern, now the New York Central was finished to Waterloo the next year,1855. The 75 mile post,west of Toledo on the railroad. stood for many years about on the west line of Joseph(6) Nodine's farm.Henry(6) Nodine purchased his brother's farm.(Joseph(6)). -2.

The land records of Sharon and Kent Prior to 1831 were kept at NewMilford. In these records we find a real estate transfer from Henry(6) Nodine to Chloe Nodine (mortgage) Nev.20,1830. Another transfer from Elijah Prindle to Henry(6) Nodine April7,1834. Cynthia(7) (Nodine) Waters told her children she remembered quite well her father's home in Nodine Hollow. The Nodine brook near by in which there were many trout is even at this time quite a celebrated trout stream. Henry(6) Nodine probably moved from near Sharon ,Conn. to Truxton. N.Y. about 1840.

Inscription on gravestone: "Henry(6) Nodine died July 17, 1859, in the 57th year of his life". Buried in Ridge Cemetery,2miles east of Waterloo, Indiana at the side of his wife Jane. -3.

SEVENTH GENERATION
CYNTHIA(7) EMELINE NODINE
AND DECENDANTS

Cynthia(7) Emeline* Nodine, born may 1,1832, Sharon, Conn. married Albertus Aretus Waters, July 18,1852 at Cortland, New York. Died March 15,1916. From New York, they moved with thier small son, Henry to Indiana in 1854. Locating first at Edgerton, Ohio, where they operated a tavern. The railroad was extended the following year,1855 to Waterloo,Ind. We have no record of their place of residence to Waterloo from 1857 until the time of Albertus Water's enlistment in the Union Army,August 18,1862.At that time ,they resided near Corunna, Ind. After his discharge from the army at the close of the Civil War he purchased an 80 acre farm four miles northeast of Waterloo, where their son, Aretus was born. After selling this farm in 1867, he purchased part of the original Joseph(6) Nodine farm four miles east of Waterloo where he lived with his family until 1887.

The J.H. Colton and Company "Atlas of the World", published in 1855, has the map of Indiana showing Dekalb County with the following towns and post offices: Fairfield Center,Corunna,Waterloo,Jarvis, Ohiana,Uniontown,Auburn,Orangetown,Vienna and Spencerville. Two railroads are shown:the "Northern Indiana", later the "Lakeshore and Michigan Southern" and at the present time known as the "New York Central" entering at the State Line at Ohiana and running almost due west through Jarvis(Butler), Waterloo and Corunna; and the "Auburn and Eel River", now known as the "Wabash", belonging to the Pennsylvania Railroad System, starting at Jarvis and running south-west through Auburn.

The country from Toledo,Ohio to Waterloo Ind. was heavily timbered. With many small lakes and a great deal of swamp land, it took true courage for the Nodines to travel the seventy-five miles from Toledo to Dekalb county, clear the land for their homes,build log houses to protect them from the severe winters, and fight of that unseen enemy,ague(malaria), during the summer months.

In 1887, Albertus and Cynthia(7)(Nodine) Waters again pioneered, moving with thier entire family of children and grandchildren to Wheeler county, Nebraska, fifty miles from a railroad.

SIXTH GENERATION
JOSEPH NODINE AND DESCENDANTS

Joseph(6) Nodine, son of Frederick(5) and Chloe Nodine was born near Kent in "Nodine Hollow", Connecticut, October 18, 1811. He was married to Betsy Beebe in 1836, probably in the town of Kent or in some nearby town. The writer has been unable to find the marriages of Joseph and many other Nodines in the Litchfield county, Connecticut records. Having been referred to the town clerk of Dover Plains, New York, an examination was made of the marriage records at that place. The present town clerk stated, "For many years there was no records kept". He related that during the early days of "Nodine Hollow" there was a path over the mountain from "Nodine Hollow" to Dover Plains. Many young couples would ride horse back over this path to be married by the justice of Peace at Dover Plains. He would perform the ceremony, many times through the window of his house, the contracting parties standing outside. The Justice deemed it unnecessary to make any record of the ceremony. Betsy Beebe, no doubt, was a native of Kent, as we find other Beebes there at that time.

Joseph(6) Nodine moved, with his wife to Dekalb county, Indiana prior to 1841, as their daughter Eliza was born there in 1841. The mode and route of travel at that time was by boat from Buffalo, New York., to Toledo, Ohio, at the mouth of the Maumee river. There were no railroads west of Buffalo at that time. The country west of Toledo was wild and heavily timbered and we wonder how Joseph was a Surveyor and surveyed Dekalb county, Indiana. He evidently purchased land from the government, as he owned a farm of 120 acres half way between the towns of Butler and Waterloo, which were laid out at the time of the building of the railroad (now the New York Central) in 1855.

Joseph(6) Nodine sold his farm to his brother Henry(6) and with his family went to Galena, Illinois with horse teams and wagons loaded with goods, where he joined his nephew, Frederick(7) Nodine, son of Jeremiah(6). They left Galena, Ill., about February 7, 1856 for Kansas, where Joseph(6) was robbed of his stock and goods then the camp was burned by the bandits. Frederick(7) Nodine married Eliza, daughter of Joseph(6) at Kansas City, Missouri, August 26, 1856. This young couple traveled by ox team via the Santa Fe and Mormon trails to Dutch Flat, California in 1859.

Joseph(6) Nodine returned to Indiana with his family where he died August 21, 1863. -1. His body was found in the road, having been pulled from his buggy, or possibly fallen. -2. His place of burial is in the (Nodine) Ridge Cemetery two miles east of Waterloo, Indiana. His wife, Betsy (Beebe) Nodine died March 21, 1863, she is buried in Ohio. -1. After returning to Indiana, the family lived in Williams county, Ohio, about two years. -3.

From John (8) Nodine we learn that Joseph(6) Nodine's children crossed the Mississippi River in February of 1866.

The following extracts are from a letter written by Bessie Hull Clark for her mother, Minerva (Nodine) Hull, July 10, 1935.

"After leaving Council Bluffs in April, one night in early June, the train had reached the end of a day's trek and were forced to pitch camp for the night on the banks of the Platte River when they discovered there were about 500 Sioux Indians camped about a mile up the river. A number of the Indians came and whooped and circled around their camp, taking note of their powers of resistance and prying into the possessions of the immigrants to see if it would pay them (the Indians) to pull a massacre when darkness of night covered all. Of course, you can only imagine the feelings of those men in the train and the helplessness of those women and children and their fright at seeing such murderous horde spying around, planning their destruction and what must have been their thoughts momentarily as the night hours passed, expecting to be killed. They could hear the yells and ki yi's of the Reds in the distance and knew they greatly outnumbered the train. Minerva was a little fourteen year old girl and no one slept in the camp that night. The train men armed and held themselves in readiness for any attack. But the reason the Reds were so hostile was because the whites were camped on their reservation. However, Uncle Sam's soldiers were in Fort Kearney across the river from the immigrants and the Indians. At daybreak, a messenger came scurrying into camp and told the train to move on as quickly as possible, as the U.S. troops were not going to be able to hold the Sioux in check much longer. They had been war dancing and working themselves into a frenzy all night and were ready to swarm for attack at any minute. So the train lost no time in ambling forth and were accompanied and guarded by a small squad of soldiers the entire day, thus enabling the whites to get far off the reservation and out of the path of the "Indians". Thus ended just one of the many terrors of the pioneers of the plains".

"Joseph (6) was engaged in the mercantile business in a town near Butler, Indiana. (Minerva doesn't recall the name). However, he heard of greater advantages in Illinois, so he loaded 2 new wagons and fine teams with this merchandise and started out, making a short stop at Galena, Ill., and then proceeded on to Fort Scott, Kansas. But, shortly after arriving at Fort Scott, they were camped on the banks of Spring River. The camp was left by the parents for a short time in the charge of two of the children, Caroline and John Nodine. But they, childlike, as soon as the parents disappeared, devised a fisherman's outfit from limbs and twine strings and pins for hooks and went fishing. Leaving the camp alone. Well, those were the days during the outbreaks of the Civil War and there was much banditry and thievery and pilfering and even murdering going on, so while the children were absent from this said camp a bunch of those so-called bandits invaded it, stole what they wanted, set fire to the wagons and turned the horses loose and drove them away. The children, hearing the noise and the crackle of the fire rushed back to camp only to find all their earthly possessions transformed into a huge pile of ashes and no trace of the horses or bandits. "Thus discouraged and disappointed and broken financially, he secured one yoke of oxen and three milk cows and resumed his weary trek back to the old place at Butler, Indiana. Illinois proved too wild a country for he and his family".

"Now your last question is-How many of your brothers and sisters went to Oregon? When did they go and how?

"They all came by wagon team in 1866 except Caroline who came on two years later by train. Ane Seneca never reached Oregon. Now this may be tiresome but none the less interesting, I shall tell you the story of Seneca passing out of this life."

"In 1867 Frederick(7) Nodine returned to Illinois to join Seneca Nodine and from there they went by stage to buy 1000 head of Texas steers and started then toward Oregon by trail and on horseback. As they journeyed along one day Seneca stopped at a little town to get his horse re-shod, at the blacksmith's shop there were two men(bandits) loitering, unknown however to Seneca. When he started on to overtake the herd and drivers, these men followed and at a point in the road near a river, they overtook him, shot him to death and robbed him. They had seen him pay the blacksmith and surmised that he had a large bank roll. He did have $1000.00 in bills that they took and threw his body in the river. Frederick(7) stopped the herd and waited several days for Seneca's return, searching, waiting and offering a large reward with no success. Then he resumed his homeward trek with the herd. Winter came on and he pulled into winter quarters with the herd and remained with them until spring. Now it was about two years from the time he left Texas with those steers until he landed in Union county, Oregon. The herd had decreased greatly by this time.

"He had kept in constant communication with the sheriff of the county in which Seneca had been murdered and ten years later, this bandit was captured and upon his death bed confessed the murder of this Texas cattle buyer, robbing him of $1000.00 and throwing the body in the river. Thus solved the mystery of brother Seneca's demise."

EXTRACTS FROM LETTERS WRITTEN BY VANCE(8) NODINE, SIXES, OREGON.

"While it is fresh on my mind, I will state that in many cases in my writing to you, I have not taken into consideration the many babes that died at birth. (I was well aware of the twins who were buried at Dutch Flat.) The mothers of the frontiers were compelled to give birth to their children under very trying conditions, without doctors, nurses or even a mid-wife and in many cases by themselves hid from the Indians in the sage brush or behind a cliff of rocks. Thus was the birth chamber of many that lived and many that died. The Oregon trail is dotted with the graves of the frontier's men, some are marked, some have grave stones telling the story of a massacre, others a hero, many fell by the wayside conquered by last day. While others trekked on towards the setting sun to search for wealth in precious minerals, furs or whatever they could discover-and some of these humble and courageous people were Nodines."

"Joseph Nodine traveled from Indiana to Kansas by wagon, the children herded the young stock on foot and many was the stubbed toe and bruised heel for mamma to kiss and 'do up' at camp time."

My father has told me this story so darn much, I hate to think of having to write it. All he has had on his mind in the last years is yarns that he loves to spin of his boyhood days. For the past few years, his main vision has been a history of his life and what I have done".

"Frederick Nodine, I think, traveled the same route to Dutch Flat that the Mormans traveled from Ogden. (a very good description of this route is given in Zane Gray's book of "Gold").

Frederick Nodine's first trip to Union was by saddle horse and pack horse. He was captured by Indians at Union, or about $\frac{1}{4}$ mile up Cath-ern Creek from the present site of Union. Everything was taken from him by the Indians and then he was made the ward of an old squaw who liked the paleface. He lived within the Indian camp until towards fall when he persuaded her to let him go see his whitebrothers on promise that he would come back. She helped him get away, giving him a small sack of corn and a stone pestle and a bowl to grind the corn, and a poor little buckskin squaw pony that was but little larger than his pack. (a squaw pony is a pony not considered fit for a buck Indian to have any use for.) The old squaw gave up her only pony and best she had as she liked the pale face. Then one night just as the full moon was showing its first rays of light, she helped the white man to steal away for his return back to Dutch Flat. (I placed the stone pestle in a small private museum about three years ago). (I can get the pestle back anytime). The squaw also gave him a bow and a quiver of arrows.

"Next spring, Frederick came back, but instead of returning alone he brought back many palefaces with plenty of guns and drove the indians out of the beautiful Grand Ronde Valley of the Blue Mountains and made it his home for many years and now he lies at rest within $\frac{1}{2}$ mile of the place where he was captured by the indians. A large stone marks his and his blessed wife's last resting place in the public cemetery which he gave to the people of Union."

"Now then I will endeavor to answer your inquirey of Joseph's family wanderings towit: Joseph (1856) left for Kansas O.K., but in 1847 he was in Dekalb county, Indiana where my father, John Nodine, was born. They left Dekalb county by horse team to Kansas and left Kansas, 1856, by ox team to Manhatten for a one year stay. Leaving Manhatten by ox team they went to Bachelor Creek, Kansas, spent one year here. In 1857 by ox team they went to Spring River, Kansas. Lived one year on Cherokee Neutral Land (1858). Then by ox team they went back to Dekalb Co., where my father was born. (Fred and Eliza went in advance to Bachelor Creek and Spring River to look for new locations."

"In 1859 by horse team they went to West Buffalo, Williams Co. Ohio, living here two years. During this time, or about Feb. 26, 1862, my father's mother died. Joseph left here by horse team to Lorence, Dekalb county and died August 26, 1862. (The end of Joseph's trail was caused by a feud over his short marriage to his second wife by a suiter for her hand. Joseph and his second wife's married life was but a few short days. He was found beaten insensible by the road side and never regained consciousness.) From here my father took up the wandering spirit and with Ira Rose, who married Emla Nodine, went to Stueben Co. Indiana early in the spring of 1866. They went to Oregon accompanied by Joseph, Mark, and Minerva Nodine, Joseph Nodine's children. This trip was made with a spike team of horses and light immigrant wagon. (a spike team consists of of wheelers and one leader hitched to the end of the tongue, three horses in all) (Note: Joseph Nodine was not able to protect horse teams in those early days from the horse thieves which infested the country. This accounts for the slow going ox teams which did not appeal to the outlaw gangs of those days.)

"Now then Mr. Waters, you will observe I have just whittled on the lead stick and getting ready to cross the plains with my father could be made a long interesting story if I went into detail but we will leave out the frill of the event and just touch on such important things which will show you the old trail which I hope to ramble some day but not by ox or horse do I care to venture. This would be too slow for this time and day of wheels and machinery.

"In the year 1866, John Nodine left Stueben Co. Indiana to cross the plains via Chicago and from here he went to Grand Prary to visit for a short time with his Uncle Frederick. Thence he went to where Ira Rose's brother had a plains ranch from here to Council Bluffs. This place is the beginning of the most interesting part of the trip. Here is where one man is one man power, but many men means much power especially when it comes to mixing blood with the Indians and thus we wait here for the first caravan to consolidate. now then we cross the river at Ohmaha and obtain supplies for the estern trip which was infested with Indians from there on, Indians, more Indians and nothing but Indians. (Don't get excited that was a long time ago. However, you now live on the old trail of the west trek, but most of the old stories and the voices that told them have long been stilled and we of today know little of what happened to those frontier tribes and traders.) I guess I am getting off what I promised to write on so let's leave Omaha and travel slow, feel our way along until we have increased our caravan to 40 wagons strong. Here we hold election and elect one John Wilson for our train captain, a man of former experience in earlier trips west. Last night we celebrate the election of John Wilson and luch over a feed of buffalo meat. This morning we mourn our first casualty of our trip and building her a tomb, we place her in a hidden grave lined with stone and covered with a large slab of stone. (My father told me the grave was completely filled with wild flowers.) From here our route lay long the north bank of the Platte River. At the crossing of the Platte, we are detained by soldiers and compelled to wait for a conjunction of another caravan from the South. This being necessary to give us more man power to cope with the Black Hills Indian raids. These Indian raids were usually very cruel and treacherous, according to my father's stories. The caravan preceding the Wilson caravan was all massacred at this point, nothing being left but the irons of the wagons to show for the gruesome savage slaughter. Men and women were stripped of their clothes, cut and slashed into ribbons, robbed of their belongings and left to the mercy of the coyote. Now we have 125 wagons, 250 men and by scouts (my father was one of them.) We feel ourselves safe now to preceed through the hostile country and once on the other side all is well, we can go on our way to our destine. The Wilson caravan split in three trains, one train went to Montana, one to California and our part to Oregon. In my travels in the West, I have met several men that sprang from the Wilson caravan, some from California, some from Montana and as I hail from the Oregon strain, I beleive most of the Wilson caravan out-lived the rigors of the west. The trip from the Platte to our present abodes are easy to follow. But they were filled with many events that come on a young West and would take many volumes to hold them, let alone a letter poorly composed and badly written with as old lead pencil in the hands of just a guy who never did know how to spell.:

EXTRACTS FROM A LETTER WRITTEN BY FRED (8) NODINE, BAKER, OREGON

"I am sending you a brief description of my Father and Mother's trip to the West."

"Joseph Nodine(6) and family, also my father, Frederick, left Galena, Illinois, about February 7th, 1856 to Kansas City, Missouri. Father and mother were married August 26, 1856, then with Joseph(6) and family went west to what is now Oklahoma."

Joseph and family returned to Illinois. Father and mother continued on to Texas and New Mexico."

"Then in 1859 came on by way of Santa Fe Trail into California, arriving at (I believe) Dutch Flat where the two older girls were born and died. In 1860 and 1861, father came on into Baker Co. Oregon to the mines and in 1862 located at Union, Oregon. His homestead of 160 acres is a part of the city of Union."

"Mother and father passed through a great many hardships of the western pioneers. Just one was the loss of his teams on the trail-he lost all of his oxen except one. But not to be outdone, he cut his wagon to a two-wheeled cart and proceeded to journey on, he carrying one end of the yoke with the ox, this way working by the side of the ox. He and mother journeyed on for nearly 250 to 300 miles."

Father sold his homestead at Union and went back to Texas where he met Seneca(7) Nodine and during the time they were looking up the cattle to purchase, Seneca was shot in the back and murdered. His body and that of his horse both being rolled into the river. Father, at the same time was stabbed by two Mexicans and was laid up for a couple of months. He then finished his trip back to Oregon driving a herd of about 2000 cattle from Texas to Oregon. Father and mother led a very active life-on the go all the time. During his business life, he handled probably more cattle than any other individual in eastern Oregon, driving and shipping to all the markets of the U.S.A. and one shipment to London, England."

"I use the names Father and Mother because the credit belongs to both Equally."

"They accumulated quite an estate, consisting of nearly 600 acres of land, cattle and horses, farm equipment and other assets."

"But by misplaced confidence and robbery of high officials, was robbed of it all. There is a great deal that I might add, a great many adventures of the West and pioneer life. One thing I mention is that there is not one public place in his home town that he didn't give his all or headed the list of public donations, schools, churches, court house, city lots, also a great many county donations."

NODINE FAMILY

During this period(1800-1825) a prominent hill in Yonkers received the name which it bears to this day. Henry Brown, who had bought 113 acres on the hill in 1785 from the Commissioners of Forfeiture, sold lands west of the present Walnut Street to George Oakley, who sold his seventy acres to John Guion. Farmer Brown sold the top of the hill, east of the present Walnut Street to Peter Nodine who, previous to buying this farm had lived near Tuckahoe. He evidently was a descendant of the Huguenot Naudin. That name is on the New Rochelle town records, among those of the early settlers, between 1695 and 1710. Access to the farm on Nodine Hill was by a narrow lane, beginning at Guion's lane near Guion's Mill. Peter Nodine died in 1816 leaving a large family. His children were Frederick, Clark, Thomas, Elizabeth and George. The present generation of this family like those of other Westchester County families, narrate interesting incidents which have come down from the generations which lived in this historic region during Indian and Revolutionary days. Elizabeth, the daughter of Peter Nodine, who lived in a small house west of the present Nodine Hill water-tower was accustomed, when advanced in years, to speak of a lad, a member of their family circle in the early days, who, when sent on errands would at times hide behind a cherry tree because he was afraid of the Indians.

During the Revolutionary War and before Peter Nodine removed to the Hill, the British soldiers drove away his cattle. They "stung" him up to compel him to reveal the place where his money was hidden. He had concealed it in the crevice of a rock. In Revolutionary times housewives used to bake corncake in an oven outside the house. On one occasion the British soldiers came to the house of Peter Nodine. He was not home. They insisted upon his wife giving them the corn-cake, and when she refused they attempted to take them from the oven. Thereupon she seized the long-handled shovel which was used to withdraw the cakes from the oven and beating the soldiers over their heads, drove them away.

Frederick Nodine, the son of Peter, served in the War of 1812.

Note:

Of the later descendants of Peter Nodine, Clark served in the war for the Union, as a member of the Sixth Artillery, and Robert S. his son as a member of the Twenty-second Massachusetts. Edgar C. as a member of the Sixty New York Artillery. Benjamin Clark Nodine was an officer in the regular Army and served in the war for the Union. Edgar Nodine, a cousin of Edgar C. was also a Union soldier. Another Union soldier was a nephew of Clark Nodine. Other relatives of the Nodine's who were in the Union army were Uriah Wilson, of the Twelfth Wisconsin Light Artillery, and Several Kriffons, one of whom commanded a battery.

Peter Nodine came from the vicinity of Tuckahoe, N. Y., then known as Turkey Hollow, to Yonkers, N.Y. about 1785 and bought property from one Henry Brown (locality now known as Nodine Hill). He died it would seem, in England, where also, apparently, his widow married Jacob Rattior, mariner, who was naturalized with Jael his wife, and Arnold Naudin, May 8, 1697. They came in that year, probably to New York, where Arnould Nodine obtained letters of denization, November 12, 1697. The granting of these letters was made one of the "heads of complaint" against the governor of New York, Fletcher, because done without authority, and "in such large and extensive terms as are contrary to the intention of the laws of England with relation to the Plantation Trade". Governor Fletcher affirmed that the letters were granted in the usual form. He wrote, London, December 24, 1698, that he did not remember this particular case, but that the desire of New York and other plantations being for an increase of settlers, he did but follow the example of his predecessor, and grant denization "to several of the poor French", forbidding any fee to be taken in such cases. No decision seems to have been reached in the matter.-(Documents relative to the Colonial History of the State of New York, Vol. 1V., PP. 434, 450, 454, 474, 486, 548.)

Elias (2) son of Elias and Jael Naudin, was married in Philadelphia, in 1715, to Alida or Lydia, daughter of Peter and Lydia LeRoux. He was an Elder in the Presbyterian Church and his lineal descendants Arnold (3), Andrew (4) and Arnold (5) in the successive generations, have like him occupied the office of the Eldership in that Church. NINETH GENERATION
WILLIS R. NODINE
AND DESCENDANTS

Willis R. Nodine(9) and Dorothy Grace Applegate, daughter of Maude and Victor Applegate were married March 16, 1922. He was born June 23, 1897 and died March 20, 1974. His beloved wife was born May 12, 1905 and died October 6, 1968. They lived in Auburn, Indiana for many years and about 1937 moved to 903 South Garden St, Kendallville, Indiana. That home was purchased by the East Noble School Corp. about 1964 and decided to move the house to a nearby street. It was moved and located at 200 Henry Street. Willis sorked and it was again, the "old home place". He refurbished it and also made a beautiful recreation room in the basement, with a limestone fireplace, doing all the stonelaying and woodwork himself, with Dorothy's help. After his death, the home was purchased by the John Hoover family.

Willis and Dorothy Nodine were the parents of four children; Howard Eugene Nodine(10), born May 15, 1926, on his Grandmother Applegate's 40th birthday.

Richard Arlen Nodine(10), born December 4, 1930.

Darlene Madaia Nodine(10), born October 9, 1938.

Lynn Ray Nodine(10), born October 22, 1944.

Howard graduated from Kendallville High School in May 1944 and was inducted into the U.S. Army in July. He spent six weeks in basic training at Fort McClellan, Alabama and was then sent overseas to join General Patton's 3rd Armored Division as a tank driver. After V-J Day, August 1945, he was assigned duty in the U.S. Post office in Munich, Germany. He was mustered out of the Army on July 22, 1946 at Fort Sheridan, Illinois. He returned to his job at Kraft Foods Co. Kendallville, Indiana. He met his wife to-be about January 1947 and was married January 24, 1948. The parents of Helen Marie, were Clayton Ervin and Geneva Agnus Bloom. Howard and Helen were married in the Blessed Sacrament Catholic Church, Albion, Indiana. Her sister, Lennettia Mae Bauman was the Matron of Honor, Angela Mae Bauman, 7 years old and Howard's sister, Darlene 9 years old were the flower girls. Henry Karst was best man, Wayne Barcus and Joe Mueller were the ushers. There was a wedding dinner at the Albion Hotel for about 75 guests., the reception following at the home of the Bloom's. The bride and groom left on a short honeymoon trip to Indianapolis, by the way the weather was a very cold, 4 degrees above zero. Their car was froze up the next morning and had to be started. Why anyone would want to get married in such cold weather!!!!!! It must have been LOVE!!!!!!
